

The Things I'm Meant to Be

I'd like to be a bookshelf so I could fill up with books
I'd enjoy being a tree so I could watch my leaves fall from my branches
I'd savor being a dictionary so I never run out of words to say
I'd adore being a computer so I always know the answer
I'd fancy being an atlas so I could help people find their way home
I'd appreciate being an almanac so I could give people a heads up on the weather
I'd care to be a window so I could watch every car go by I'd want to be a water droplet so I could travel the world
I'd take pride in being a bookmark so I could bring you to the right page
I'd relish being a shoe so I could warm people's feet
I'd wish to be a car to take people home
I'd admire being a magnet so I could protect papers
I'd approve being an A+ to make someone's day
I'd cherish being a roof so I could save people from freezing
I'd love to be a pencil to help people write