

Rebecca

December 9, 2015

The Things I Wish to be... in My Thoughts

I'd like to be a bird so I could sing all day long la di da di la di daaa

I'd die... not literally to be a cheetah so I could run like the wind

How delightful it would be to be a swing swaying in the wind

I've dreamed of being a wild turkey so I could run and fly 24/7

I have yearned to be a snowflake fluttering through the sky on a 28 degree day

I'd appreciate it if I could be a calculator whizzing through math facts... $12 \times 12 = 144$

I'd enjoy being a pumpkin so I could be all over the place

I'd love being a horse so I could sleep when I'm standing... zzzzzzzzzzz

I have a hope of being a violin so I can scream all day long

I'd adore being a pen so I could be hugged all day

I'd select be a flag so I could have a place in every home

I have a desire to be a turtle so I can take my time in everything I do...one step... two steps

I've always wanted to be a cat so I can stalk down those nasty mice

I'd prefer to be a word rather than a book so I can be everywhere

I've always wished to be a flower so I can be beautiful in everyone's eyes